

CHRISTMAS 2005

God rest you merry gentlemen,
And wives and children too,
Look up and listen - angels sing,
“We’ve got GOOD NEWS for you.”

T’was on this day, so long ago,
That Christ was born in Bethlehem,
Redeeming love, that we might know,
And life that never ends.

We look upon the year gone by
With blessings undeserved,
And thank the Lord, Who’s by our side
Who always keeps His Word.

He promises to walk with us
The path which we must choose,
And gives us wisdom for each day
Surrounding us with love.

In looking back upon the year,
T’was filled with change galore,
The Zulker’s moved, without a tear,
The Vesper’s bought a store.

The “Village Market” it was called,
But now its grown to three,
And Bev and John, “The millionaires”
Are now, or soon will be.

Both Bill and John work day and night
To feed the neighborhood,
Assisted by their sisters - two,
Who beautify the site!
WOW !

Its said “to College” girls should go,
To read some books and find a BEAU,
So day by day at quarter-to-eight,
To West Chester U. go Sarah and Kate.

It was in June, that Jim, no more
Desired to live alone,
He took a wife named Eleanor,
And bought himself a home.

Iraq was far away we heard,
Far o'er the ocean waters blue,
And there our Lisa went to serve,
And share her loving Saviour, too.

And now she's home, again, awhile
From giving hope and fighting sin,
But when tuition bills have all been paid,
Another journey she'll begin.
FOR SURE!

There's Jessie, Chris and Debbie Sue
In school, at home, throughout the day,
Except when Beth and Jim are gone,
And then they're out to play.
A LOT !

The Marshalls built a home next door
For June and Ray - and so much more,
And now when Bills in need of help,
He op'es the door and gives a yelp.

The "German" in our Pop Pop's blood
Runs thick with loyalty,
He's never really satisfied
'Til Deutschland he can see.

So, in the Fall, with Mom so fair,
And newlyweds in tow,
The four took off on US AIR
To Europe they did go.

AND NOW, again on Christmas Day,
We gather round the tree,
To give our gifts and sing and say,
"God loves us all- both you and me."

MERRY CHRISTMAS
